

The Judiciary

Chief Justice John A. Robson and George Howe leaving after declaring officially the separation of the clergy from the state in 1958